Cape Recife, Lighthouse and Grysbok Nature Reserve 4 x 4 Tour

Pick up at place of residence in Port Elizabeth and travel to the southernmost tip of Algoa Bay, Cape Recife, Cabo de Arrecife, the Cape of Reefs as it was named by the early Portuguese explorers. On arrival we collect the key and enter the reserve. Our first stop is at the SANCCOB for a guided tour of this marine bird and penguin rehabilitation center. Afterwards you continue our tour of the reserve arriving at Cape Recife itself with its mobile sand dunes and historic, operational lighthouse which was completed in 1851, the 3rd oldest fully operational Light house in South Africa today.

Parking the tour vehicle walk the last 100 metres observing the wealth of shore birds and many species of terns that inhabit this often wind swept rocky point at the southern entrance to Algoa Bay and the very reason for the existence of this well maintained light. As you enter the lighthouse you will be introduced to the old machinery that provided the mechanical power to operate this lonely outpost. Climbing the wooden, circular 101 stairs that bring you to the light at the top of the building one can only wonder at the efforts of those early lighthouse keepers, the steps worn smooth and polished by the weary footsteps up and down the stairway to keep the light burning and to maintain this beacon of hope, even in the worst of weather conditions. Stories of ghosts and intrigue stalk the very atmosphere of this ray of light.

Optional addition (4 x 4): Leaving the lighthouse we continue to a series of settlement ponds where a wide variety of mainly aquatic birds can be viewed from the bird hide or if the invasive vegetation covers the waters we simply continue to the main road to enter the Grysbok Nature reserve a protected area of coastal Fynbos that surrounds the Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University (NMMU). This is a refuge for a number of antelope, Red hartebeest, Common Duiker, Bushbuck and Zebra amongst others but is also home to the diminutive Cape Grysbok after which the reserve has been named. There area is also host to a surprising wealth of birdlife including a number of nocturnal (Owls) and diurnal raptors and ground birds.

While coursing the sandy roads of the reserve in our 4 x 4 vehicle we describe the many uses the hardy herbaceous vegetation had for the Early Khoikhoi many of whom inhabited and foraged in this area.

We point out a number of ancient shell middens or discard heaps of sea shell and other domestic debris left as testament to the lifestyles of these hardy hunter herders who occupied these windswept shoreline tens of thousands of years ago.

Untold Mandela Stories Tour: Itinerary (4hr duration)

Have you ever wondered why our area is called Nelson Mandela Bay? Well, join us on as we explore the people and events that influenced Madiba's political outlook. This tour seeks to illustrate the reason Dr Mandela gave permission to have his name given to the Metro out of thousands of cities from across the world. The stories are about people and events that helped shape Mandela and his peers, Raymond Mhlaba and Govan Mbeki.

Highlights

Route 67

Route 67 is a project fashioned after the number of years dedicated by Madiba to public life and the betterment of his people. There are various works of art that depict life in Nelson Mandela Bay, extracts from speeches by the former president and the road travelled to freedom. We also have the second tallest flag pole in Africa (at 60m), a flag that measures 150m² and weighs 13kg. The last artwork focuses on is the Voting Line exhibition, fashioned after the first democratic elections of 1994.

New Brighton

We will do a tour of few sites in New Brighton including the Emlotheni Memorial Park. We will also stop at Mati Road to mark the March of Hope led by Rev George Irvine in 1990. This march came just after the release of Mandela.

Red Location is the oldest township in New Brighton. The first Act of Defiance was led by Oom Ray (Raymond Mhlaba) in 1952 in which he led a group of 30 volunteers on a march to New Brighton Station earning him the title “vulindlela” meaning the trailblazer or one who leads the way. Nelson Mandela came to launch the M-plan in Red Location in 1952. Some of the first members of the Luthuli Detachment came from New Brighton. Umkhonto Wesizwe launched their first acts of sabotage here in Port Elizabeth with the bombing of the Bantu Administration Board Offices.

All the sites we have visited so far talk to why we now call ours The Home of Freedom. Our stories are told by struggle veterans, through music and the arts.
