WARM WELCOME

Welcome to Nelson Mandela Bay – celebrated for its unique urban, natural and cultural offerings. The metropole of Nelson Mandela Bay comprises the seaport city of Port Elizabeth, the inland towns of Uitenhage and Despatch, and the riverside towns of Colchester and Cannonville. It is situated on South Africa's south-eastern coastline, in the Eastern Cape Province - birthplace of Nelson Mandela, the late globally-revered iconic freedom fighter, hero and leader, former South African president, world icon of peace and Nobel Peace Prize winner - Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela.

Nelson Mandela Bay is acknowledged as a value-for-money, family-orientated holiday destination and, more recently, as one of the most sought-after international IRONMAN destinations, having recently hosted the first IRONMAN 70.3 World Championship on the African Continent in 2018. It is a place known by many names: the Friendly City, Windy City, African Water Sport Capital, Five Biome City and the Host on the Coast. Another claim to fame is the fact that Algoa Bay was awarded Hope Spot status (special conservation areas that are critical to the health of the ocean) by Mission Blue in 2014 in addition to lately being declared as the Bottlenose Dolphin Capital of the World. All these names define its scenic beauty, wide range of sport and water sport activities, rich diversity and easy-going atmosphere. Despite its sophisticated urban ambience and setting, it is still closely linked with contrasting landscapes including splendid nature reserves, the glorious ocean, diverse wildlife and the magnificent great outdoors.

With forty kilometers of breathtaking sun-drenched golden beaches enhance the pristine coastline of the Bay with the warm waters of the Indian Ocean lapping the shore. The destination lays claim to a marvelous moderate climate all year round, with sea temperatures ranging from 18°C to 23°C in summer and 14°C to 19°C in winter. Generally, the weather conditions are calm, except for the occasional South-Easterly winds.

The region offers a unique diversity with a blend of natural beauty and a rich legacy that carries the history of Khoisan, British, Dutch, German and Xhosa people, adding to the complexity of its culture and historical heritage.

Clearly, Nelson Mandela Bay, as a destination, has that winning combination of numerous relaxation and authentic experiences. The ever popular 'Nelson Mandela Bay Pass' is one of the most affordable ways to explore and experience the destinations unique offering! Visitors are invited to become ambassadors by sharing fond memories of their experiences while visiting the destination, through uploading photos onto social media and using...

HONOURING A HOME - GROWN LEGEND

NELSON MANDELA

"I have fought against white domination and I have fought against black domination. I have cherished the idea of a democratic and free society. If need be, it is an ideal for which I am prepared to die".

- Nelson Mandela

To residents, the late Nelson Mandela was much more than an international role-model and the first President of a democratic South Africa. Anti-apartheid revolutionary, politician and philanthropist; he was Madiba, son of this area, who was born and spent his formative years in the Eastern Cape.

Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela was born in Qunu, a small village near Mthata (Umtata) in the former Transkei, (Eastern Cape) on 18 July 1918. He helped to establish the ANC Youth League and was imprisoned for 27 years on Robben Island, in Polsmoor Prison, for his ideals of a free and non-racial democratic South Africa. In 1991, he was elected as President of the African National Congress after he was released, and the ANC was unbanned. He, and the then South African President, F. W. de Klerk, jointly received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1993, recognizing their combined efforts towards reconciliation and peace in this country. On 10 May 1994, he became the first democratically-elected South African President, after a landslide victory in the April 1994 elections, and served until 1999.

He retired from public life in June 1999 where he resided in Houghton, Johannesburg with his wife, Graça Machel. They exchanged vows on his 80th birthday in 1998. In 2000, Dr. Mandela graciously consented that this Metropolitan Municipality be named after him. This international icon of peace and reconciliation personified the "spirit of freedom". In 2009, Mandela's birthday (18 July) was declared Mandela Day, an international day to promote global peace and celebrate the South African leader's legacy. Each year on Mandela Day, South African businesses and citizens participate in "67 Minutes For Mandela", donating one minute of their time for each year of Mandela's public service. On this day, they perform charitable works/give of their time for the less fortunate; these voluntary works range from donating food/clothing to helping the homeless (people and animals), to name but a few.

On 5 December 2013, at the age of 95, Nelson Mandela died at his home in Johannesburg. For decades to come, Nelson Mandela will continue to be a source of inspiration for civil rights activists worldwide.

In order to honour, and pay tribute, to this remarkable and noteworthy statesman, an arts/culture/heritage route, tagged 'Route 67', has been laid out as a visual journey. Commencing at the Campanile Monument, Route 67 culminates at the Nelson Mandela Metropolitan Art Museum, both in Port Elizabeth. This Route consists of 67 Public Art Works, symbolizing Nelson Mandela's 67 years of political life, and his work, dedicated to the struggle for Freedom in South Africa. Route 67 also reaches further, linking the journey in South End and The Red Location Precinct in Port Elizabeth, as well as Uitenhage.

Tourists should take the same sensible precautions they would in any major city – always be alert and vigilant.

Safety on the Street:

- Avoid leaving belongings unattended and be alert and vigilant at all times.
- Avoid carrying large sums of cash and carry your wallet in an inside pocket or wear a money-belt
- Carry your camera/video camera, etc. in a shoulder bag and not around your neck.
- Take special precautions in secluded areas (including parks and gardens and walks / trails), especially at dusk and after dark.
- Street children and beggars may approach you for a handout – Social workers counsel against giving money, if you wish to do good, rather give food or donate your money to a registered charity.
- It is better to explore in groups: there is safety in numbers.
- At night, park in a secure, well-lit area, stay clear of dark, isolated areas, rather stick to well-lit busy streets.
- Be aware that uniformed parking attendants will offer to safeguard one's car for a tip (small fee).
- Do not leave valuable belongings in your car; lock everything in the boot where they are out of sight.
- Keep copies of all valuable documents in a safe place.
- Heed the advice of your hosts or locals on where to go (and which places to avoid) at dusk.
- Avoid walking in deserted and dark places at night.

Safety When Jogging, Walking or Cycling

- Jog or cycle with a companion.
- Restrict your activities to familiar locations and avoid secluded areas.
- Avoid participating in the late evenings.
- Always face the oncoming traffic
- If you think you are being followed, go to the nearest house and call the police.
- Wear brightly coloured clothing to improve visibility.
- Carry a whistle or shrill alarm to summon help if needed.
- Vary your route and routine.
- Stay away from bushes and alleys where attackers might hide.
- Always be aware of your surroundings and be ALERT (avoid using mp3 devices or headphones).
- Do not carry valuables when jogging, walking or cycling.
- Plan your route beforehand and let someone know where you are going, as well as what time you expect to return.

Safety Tips for ATM (Auto Teller Bank Machines) Users

- ATM users should take extra caution during the festive season/end of the week or month (pay day) because criminals are on the prowl, looking for easy pickings.
- Use ATMs you are familiar with or choose well-lit, well-situated ATMs, such as in shopping malls/centres.
- Do not go to ATMs laden with parcels and shopping, as one cannot concentrate fully on these, your transaction and bystanders all at the same time.
- Do not accept help from strangers and never give your PIN code to strangers, even those who claim to be working for the banks.
- Be aware that criminals work in teams - one distracts you, while the other tries to steal the card and money
- ATM users should be on the lookout for foreign or suspicious devices attached to, or close to the ATM, that may be used to scan cards or read PIN numbers.
- If you suspect that you are being followed, get yourself to the nearest public place or police station as quickly as possible, or approach a police official.
- Beware of card swapping at ATMs and press Cancel should somebody try to distract you. Carry your card details (without the pin code) on you.
- Be cautious of scams where well-dressed strangers offer to phone the bank on your behalf on their cell phone. When your card gets stuck, they will invariably ask for your pin number. Your pin number is not needed to cancel a card.

HISTORICAL HERITAGE

Nelson Mandela Bay bears the rich legacy of an area that saw the first meetings of Khoisan, British, Dutch, German and Xhosa people. As the landing place of the 1820 Settlers, it offers a wealth of treasures in the form of historical attractions, museums and places of interest, guaranteed to provide a journey of discovery!

PORT ELIZABETH

The nomadic San were the earliest group of indigenous people known to live in the Eastern Cape. The forefathers of the isiXhosa speaking people arrived on the banks of the Kei River at about 800AD. While on his epic voyage of discovery searching for a sea route to the East, the Portuguese Bartolomeu Diaz, rounded the "Cabo da Roca" in February 1488 and entered "Baia da Roca" – Cape and Bay of the Rock (now Cape Recife and Algoa Bay). Dias also gave the name "Ilheus Chaos" (Flat Islands) to the Bird Islands. In 1497, Vasco da Gama, successor to Dias, entered Algoa Bay on his voyage to India and noted the Bird Islands. His charts gave Cape Recife its name – "Cabo do Arricife" – Cape of the Reef. The "Bay" was later named "Baia de Lagoa" by navigator and cartographer Manuel de Mesquita Perestrelo in 1576, referring to the lagoon situated at the mouth of the Baakens River. Altogether 4 000 British Settlers arrived by sea in 1820, to become the first permanent British residents in the Albany District. On 6 June 1820, Sir Rufane Donkin, Acting Governor of the Cape Colony at the time, named the new sea port in memory of his late wife, Elizabeth. Before the up-country gold and diamond booms, PE developed into one of the major commercial cities in SA, trading in wool, mohair and ostrich feathers. As a result, the harbour became a bustling port.

The Donkin Heritage Trail and Route 67 (Arts Culture Heritage Route): The 1820 Settler history and architectural delights of the historical central city can be explored at leisure on a self-guided walking tour. Amble along the 5 km Donkin Heritage Trail, which links 51 places of historical interest in the old Hill area of central Port Elizabeth (Donkin Heritage Trail booklet sold at NMBT Visitor Information Centre, located inside the Lighthouse Cottage on Donkin Reserve, Tel: +27 (0) 41 585 8884).

Or opt for a guided walking tour of approx. 3hrs along Route 67 – an Arts Culture Heritage Route depicting 67 public art works symbolizing Nelson Mandela's 67 years of dedication to the Freedom of South Africa. Some of which include:

Welcome Carpet (a Quart Carpet with bead artwork which celebrates the diverse cultures of the Eastern Cape); Untitled (an untitled piece with the features and clothing on the female figure standing behind the chair, deliberately neutral which is meant as a conversation piece); River Memory (artwork of steel pipes which evokes the streamlet that once trickled down to the sea before it was land-filled, making way for what is now Donkin Street); Windward (sculptural benches which hint at Port Elizabeth's nautical history while the title refers to the city's popular name, the "Windy City"); Fish Bird (represents the returning back of the Donkin to take ownership of this transforming site). A combination walking tour of both Donkin Heritage and Route 67 trails can be arranged at the Information Centre.

Donkin Reserve, Lighthouse and The Great Flag

Belmont Terrace, Central. Donkin Reserve was proclaimed a public open space in perpetuity by Sir Rufane Donkin. It includes a stone pyramid monument, with a touching inscription, erected by Sir Rufane Donkin in memory of his late wife, Elizabeth, after whom the city was named. The Lighthouse, built in 1861, also houses the official Visitor Information Centre. Tel: 041 585 8884. Open Mon. to Fri. from 08h00 to 16h30; Sat. and public holidays. 09h30 to 15h30 (Closed on Sundays, Christmas Day and January 1). At a nominal fee, the Lighthouse is opened to the public on request. The Great Flag, which measures 12m x 15m, is the biggest in South Africa and it flies from the highest flagpole (60m) in the country. Piazza Mosaic is a 40m² mosaic set out between the Pyramid and the Great Flag which celebrates the multi-cultural, the heritages, the diverse histories and abundant fauna and flora that characterizes the city and the province. The Voting Line close by are life-size laser-cut steel figures which are symbolic of the 1994 first free democratic elections. GPS: 25 37'13.94" E - 33 57'43.92" S

PIAZZA MOSAIC

Prester John Memorial: Fleming Square, adjacent to the City Hall. The Memorial is dedicated to the mythical king-priest, Prester John, and the Portuguese seafarers who set out on an exploration of the South Africa coastline. The Monument consists of a large Coptic cross. In the central circle are the figures of Prester John and a Portuguese navigator. GPS: 25 37'25.34" E - 33 57'46.10" S

DESPATCH

The town of Despatch is situated on rich clay soil and in the late 1800's was the site of a flourishing brick industry. Despatch's name was derived from this history, as it was from the original railway siding (later known as "Hitler's Halt"), that the bricks were "dispatched" or rather, "despatched". Many of the older buildings in Uitenhage were built with these very bricks. Most of these early bricks can be identified by the word 'Despatch' imprinted on the top and bottom of the brick.

Sadly, the brick business is now a remnant of the past. Offering the charm of a rural town in the heart of a city, Despatch currently has a resident population of approx. 40 000. Originally developed in 1942, Despatch is regarded as a relatively young town and officially obtained municipal status in 1945. In 2001 it joined with Uitenhage, Port Elizabeth and surrounding areas to form the Nelson Mandela Bay Metropolitan Municipality.

Despatch Chimney Brickworks: De Mist / Genot Streets. The only reminder of the town's brick industry is the brick chimney built in 1882, which formed part of the once flourishing Brick Works in Despatch. The Chimney is situated in a field on the outskirts of the town to the north next to the railway tracks. In recent years, restoration work has brought the monument to its former glory, including 'supports' which now give it the appearance of a space rocket. It can be viewed, standing tall and serene in a field on the outskirts of the town, alongside the railway track. This is a viewpoint only.

DID YOU KNOW...

The name of the town was derived from the brick industry, as it was from a railway siding (later known as "Hitler's Halt") in the late 1800's near Uitenhage, that the bricks were "dispatched" or rather, "despatched".

BEAUTIFUL BEACHES

Nelson Mandela Bay's pristine beaches are legendary with wide expanses of golden sands which are ideal for safe sheltered swimming and other water sport and beach recreational activities.

Blue Flag Status: Three beaches have again achieved the coveted Blue Flag Status for the 2018/19 season, namely: Hobie, Humewood and King's Beaches and two that have been awarded 'pilot' status (an important development stage for potential Blue Flag sites), namely: Blue Water Bay & Wells Estate. Stringent Blue Flag requirements include adequate bathroom facilities, acceptable sea water quality, an educational centre and well-trained lifeguards, all of which are monitored by WESSA (Wildlife and Environment Society South Africa) on an ongoing basis. Summer water temperatures range from 18 to 21°C, and sea conditions are generally calm in the bay, except when the south-easterly wind blows. Professional lifeguards patrol most beaches during summer. Beach Manager's Office Tel: +27 (0) 41 506 1423

Northern Beaches: The Northern beaches provide suitable angling and swimming opportunities, and include Brighton Beach, St George's Strand and Bluewater Bay which is within walking distance from the Swartkops River mouth.

Marine Life in Algoa Bay: Algoa Bay has a vast diversity of marine life that can be viewed all year round. Each year the "gentle giants of the ocean" are a familiar sight along the coastline and can easily be sighted from the shore in season. This included Southern Right whale, which mates and calves between July and October each year in the large sheltered Algoa Bay. The Bay's calm conditions make it an ideal nursery for calving and feeding the young. Humpback whales pass by during June / July and again in November / December. The sardine-eating Bryde's whale is present throughout the year. Bottlenose dolphins, Cape Fur seals, gannets and cormorants are also common.

McArthur's Pool and Leisure Centre is ideally situated along Kings Beach Promenade adjoining onto Kings Beach and is an outstanding water recreational facility. Sundays River Mouth: The villages of Cannonville and Colchester nestle on the banks of the Sundays River at its entrance into the Indian Ocean and is tidal from the mouth to 17km upstream. The Sunday River Mouth is unique, as the river flows through the world-renowned Coastal Dune Fields.

DOLPHIN CAPITAL

Algoa Bay Hope Spot: Algoa Bay, situated on the East Cape coast of South Africa, is famous for its natural beauty, biodiversity of marine habitats and rich marine life. The Bay incorporates two island groups and is home to the largest colonies of African Penguins. It is a protected refuge to calving whales, large pods of bottlenose dolphin and humpback dolphins. Visiting orcas are often spotted. The annual migration of millions of sardines is announced, and celebrated, by blue-eyed Cape Gannets, game fish, dolphins and sharks. Algoa Bay is also home to a wide variety of sharks, such as ragged tooth, pyjama and leopard catshark (endemic to South Africa) and is a nursing ground to ragged tooth, great white and smooth hammerhead sharks. It is recognized as one of the world temperate biodiversity hotspots and candidate for Mission Blue Hope Spot status, launched by Dr. Sylvia Earle in 2014. This confirms the area's uniqueness and biodiversity of Marine habitats. (Mission Blue is a Sylvia Earle Alliance initiative to ignite public support for the protection of Hope Spots. These are special conservation areas, vital and critical to the health of the ocean. This is done by creating a global network of marine protected areas to safeguard 20% of the ocean by 2020.) mission-blue.org

Scientific evidence supports the Bottlenose Dolphin Capital: Scientific Research was conducted in the 1990s by a cetacean scientist, (Dr. Vic Cockcroft, Centre for Dolphin Studies). Approx. 20 000 Indo-Pacific Bottlenose Dolphins (Tursiops aduncus) inhabit Algoa Bay. In a recent study of Algoa Bay's Indo-Pacific bottlenose dolphin population, Ryan Reisinger and Leszek Karczmarski used photographic identification data, over three years, to accurately identify 1 569 individual dolphins by distinctive markings. It was concluded that the 'largest population estimate to date for this species were found along the South African Coast'. This suggests that more bottlenose dolphins inhabit the Algoa Bay region than along the rest of the South African coast. Reisinger & Karczmarski, 2010.

BOTTLENOSE DOLPHIN FACTS...

Bottlenose dolphins get their name from their distinctly bottle-shaped beaks. This genus has three different species, with the Indo-Pacific species most commonly found in Algoa Bay. These dolphins grow to up to 2.6m and weigh a maximum 230kg. Their top surfaces are dark grey, with almost-white bellies; these become spotted as they age. They are as inquisitive as humans, often coming close to boats and bow-riding the waves created. Bottlenose dolphins can dive up to 300m and hold their breath for up to 20 minutes. However, they are often found in shallow waters (maximum 30m deep) and dive for three to four minutes. Often found in groups of up to 400, they sometimes join other schools, forming larger groups of up to 1,500. In Algoa Bay, dolphin pods are frequently sighted along the beachfront.

Triathlon: A triathlon is a multisport race with three continuous and sequential endurance races. While variations of the sport exist, the most common form includes swimming, cycling and running over various distance. Triathletes compete for fastest overall course completion, including timed transitions between the three races. Nelson Mandela Bay has been rated as one of the most sought-after international IRONMAN destinations, having recently hosted the first IRONMAN 70.3 World Championship on the African Continent in 2018. Algoa Bay offers safe calm open-water swimming conditions while the cycling discipline extends along scenic coastline and picturesque countryside with the running element incorporating the beauty of the entire length of main beachfront. CULTURAL HERITAGE EXPERIENCES

Nelson Mandela Bay's "Townships" are steeped in rich social history, tradition and culture. A legacy of apartheid, their origins have flourished from modest beginnings into hubs of activity and social life which is reflected in the food, music, language, religion and traditional practices.

Unique Township Tapestry: Walmer Township – Port Elizabeth's first township formed part of the Welbedaght farm before it was laid out as a township by Mr McDonald, a government surveyor in 1851. New Brighton – The Township grew around the railway station built in 1877. It includes Red Location, White Location, McNamee, Boastville, Elundini and KwaFord. Red Location is a settlement of mostly tin shanties. The name originated from the oxide colourant used to protect the corrugated iron structures and roofs from rust, which have become a trademark in the area. After the war the "Blacks" from Bubba's location were housed here. White Location was the first economic housing scheme that was built there after the Urban Areas Act of 1923. Africans from Stranger's Location, Russell Road and Coopers Kloof located here by 1904. Kwa-Zakhele – Meaning "place to build yourself" in Xhosa, was established in 1956. Its families moved in from Korsten, a nearby mixed-race township. KwaMagxaki – Was established in 1985 and is the second highest income suburb occupied mainly by a diversified group of professionals, business people and civil servants. Kwa-Dwesi – Was started during the late 1980's, it is also occupied mainly by a mixture of professional business people and civil servants. Zwide – Named after Fair Hansen Manching Zwide, the principal of the Bethelsdorp Coloured Primary School. Mr Zwide was a community leader and was elected onto many committees and forums. Zwartkops – Formerly Zwartkops, a village on the farm Fishwater Flats. Motherwell – A township formed in the late 1980's to accommodate the expanding population. It is the largest township in the Port Elizabeth region.

Informal Street Vendors: Roadside hawkers sell a range of fresh fruit and vegetables, art, wooden and beaded wire African Crafts. popular vending areas extends along the main beachfront promenade, Govan Mbeki Avenue as well as in front of Builders Express, cnr. Main Road & Eighth Ave., Walmer.

Social, Political and Historical Tours: Visitors keen to explore South Africa's politics and history may opt for organized social, political and historical tours which unveil how history evolved, considering the limitations applied in the past. They encompass diverse peoples and their cultures and incorporate a visit to the historical townships, demonstrating the impact of the apartheid era on the city.

Shebeen Tours: Shebeens (informal drinking halls) were originally illicit bars where liquor was sold without a licence but have since become (legally) an energetic mix between a makeshift tavern, social club and a general meeting place. Shebeens offer informal venues with a relaxed atmosphere where patrons can unwind and enjoy 'Shisa Nyama' (a Zulu slang expression for 'buy and braai'). CAFÉ CULTURE AND COFFEE

Among global consumers, coffee consumption is moving beyond being just a daily habit to becoming part of a lifestyle. For some, their morning ritual will not be complete without a cup of coffee, either at home, on-the-go or during a social get-together at a café.

Coffee appears to be the second-most consumed beverage in the world, after water. It is, however, significantly more than just a beverage. Considering the growing global demand for coffee, new trends are being observed in the South African coffee market. We have become obsessed with the social side of coffee. From those who stand in line every morning at seven a.m. waiting for their cup to grab-and-go, to the visitor who sits leisurely at a window-seat reading a newspaper or watching the world go by, to meeting up with friends at a coffee shop; all fall within this new trend. Then, there are also the solitary coffee drinkers, alone with their thoughts, and alone with their cups of coffee. Coffee is about savouring the moment.

Listed below are some firm favourite meeting places that fall within the coffee shop sector and serve great coffee as well as a tantalizing menu:

METERED TAXI TIPS...

- Avoid utilizing cabs that are unmarked & carry no identification
- The taximeter fare is for the protection of the hirer
- Avoid using cabs which do not have a taximeter fitted, or if the driver claims that the taximeter is defective, or alternatively check the odometer for the distance travelled after first establishing the rate per kilometer
- When boarding, the taximeter display must be blank of zero, and should only be set in motion once the user has hired the vehicle
- Quotations may be slightly inflated due to exact distance to destination being unknown
- For fairness, only accept fixed quotes if the taximeter is set in motion so as to compare the quote with the fare calculated by a taximeter
- Rates are charged per kilometer, and a minimum fare usually applies

STAY IN THE BAY

Nelson Mandela Bay will embrace you with friendliness at any of the accommodation establishments and make you feel totally at home. With a range wide enough to suit any requirements, you will receive the warmest welcome and sincerest hospitality.

For the seasoned and discerning traveller, both Nelson Mandela Bay and the outlying region pose a wide range of outstanding accommodation alternatives. Upscale accommodation in unique settings with individualized distinctive selling points ranging from 5-star to boutique Hotels with Spa's offer a stylish and sophisticated choice of accommodation. For more traditional hotel service, an appealing selection of superior 3- and 4-star hotels, as well as up-market retreats, is recommended. One- and Two-star Hotels are available, offering good value-for-money. The Metro also has a thriving guest house industry, ranging from the basic Bed & Breakfast or Self-Catering arrangement to the quiet intimacy of a cosy up-market Guesthouse or a luxurious Manor House. A novel and innovative phenomenon of township accommodation is emerging in the form of Township Lodges.

A significant choice of fine quality self-catering establishments are situated in prime positions in close proximity to the main beachfront. Most of the holiday resorts, caravan parks and camping sites are also located along the beaches or other more rural locations. Several establishments specialise in excellent budget and group accommodation within the Metro as well, catering for backpackers too.

Some accommodation establishments have been assessed and accredited by the National Tourism Grading Council of SA and display an internationally recognised star rating to reflect their level of grading. For the last seven years, NMBT has been an official accredited booking agent for South African National Parks (SANParks) and is the only reservation offices for SANParks in the Eastern Cape.
